

Jump Games is a leading publisher and developer of games across Mobile and Web platforms. Working on multiple technologies since its inception, Jump has leveraged its experience and expertise in creating innovative and cutting-edge gaming content endorsed by some of the best brands from across the world.

Besides being affiliated with global associations like Sun's iForce initiative and Forum Nokia PRO, Jump has partnered with leading content owners, publishers, Mobile operators, handset manufacturers and technology providers like Intel, Coca-Cola, Sony Ericsson, ICTV (HeadendWare), Sun, Virgin Comics, Pixiem, Kato Studios, Big Fish Games, LG and Conitec for its gaming initiatives.

Diversifying our gaming know-how to Multi-platform, Cross-platform and Connected gaming we have created games that are available with international aggregators such as Zingy Inc., Cellucom, Gamefederation, PocketNet, and Sam Click, among others.

Distributed across the US, Europe, South Africa, Australia, the Middle East, and Asia, Jump's games can be accessed and played on leading networks like Vodafone, M1, MTN, Dialog Telekom, Reliance Mobile World, Telstra, Tele2, TIM, O2, Vodafone, Virgin Mobile, KPN, Telia, 3, Telefonica, Optimus, and Telenor.

Jump's commitment to quality gaming is reflected in its award-winning games like Final Front, a 10-player strategy war game that won the M1 Nokia IMS Challenge, Bappi Da Disco King that won the Best Mobile Game of the Year, and The Lost Astra – Winner of the Original Indian Content Award at FICCI FRAMES 2007.

Fuelling concepts for these ground-breaking games is the domain expertise of Jump's 180+-strong multi-disciplinary, cross-skilled team housed at state-of-the-art production house at Mumbai. The team comprises game designers, concept artists, 2D and 3D graphic artists, modelers, programmers, project managers, game testers, and creative writers. Expanding operations internationally, the company has opened an office at Stockholm recently. In India, Jump has recently set up shop in Pune after Mumbai.
